In Memory Of...

*Bobby J. Ferguson
1983-1997*

Until We Meet Again

*We never had a chance to say our goodbyes,
You were taken from us too early.
Faces we thought we would see everyday,
But God had better plans for you both my brothers.*

*So as we close a chapter of our lives,
We reflect on the memories we had together with you.*

*We embrace them everyday,
Together again one day.
So each night we pray,
To see you once more,
To pick up on old times.*

*We hope you will be at the gates of heaven awaiting our arrivals,
So we can finally close up our chapter together.*

Written by fellow classmate David Neuman

Christopher Schwindel 1982-2000

A WALK d o w n MEMORY LANE

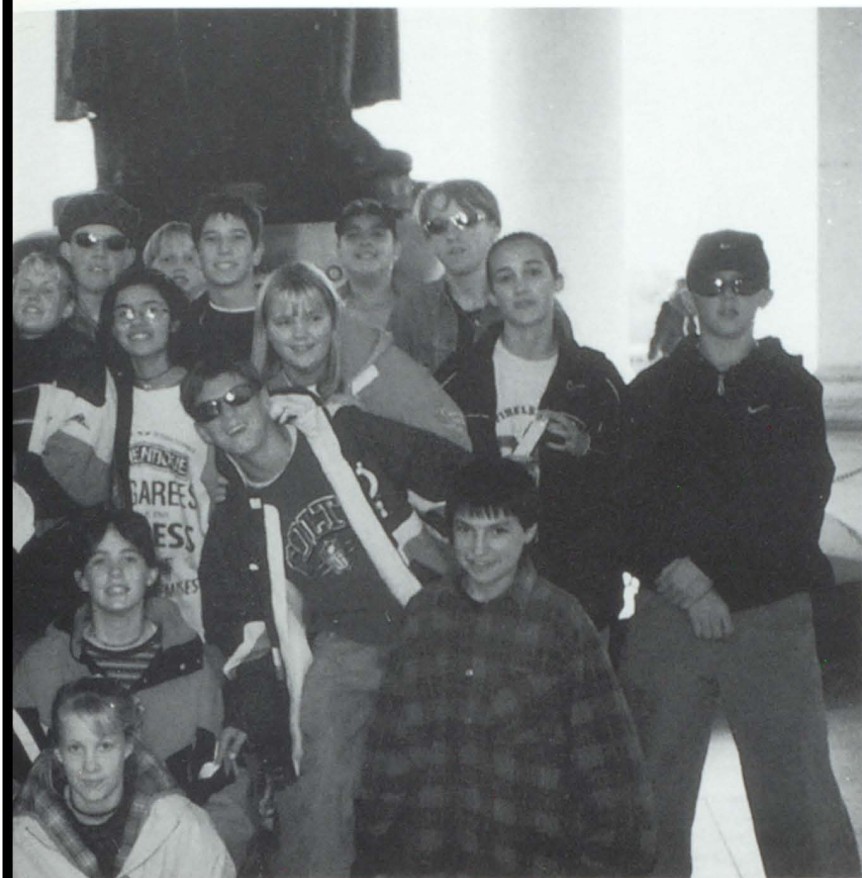

Good: (gud) adj. of a favorable character or tendency

Memories: (mem-(ə)-rēs) n. a commemorative remembrance

What memory from your grade school to middle school years will you always carry with you throughout your life?

"In 3rd grade when Jessica had her b-day party and we all got shirts...and we all got sick!" Ashley Oeding; "I will always remember my 4th grade year with Mrs. Hess and her fast food song." Elana Neighbors; "I remember when I wrote my name on my chair in kindergarten with a permanent marker. Mrs. Collins got so mad! I started crying and told her that I could wash it off." Andrea Hohl; "I was in middle school?" Kyle Staats; "I remember in grade school constantly fighting with Brad Barnes, and yet we were best friends." Brent Meadors; "Going to three different schools each year from 6th to 8th grade." Jennifer Bolin; "Playing ninja turtles at recess at Chrisney." Isaiah Fuchs; "I remember the first year they had tackle football in grade school." Chris Schaefer; "One time in the second grade Andrew Ayer showed up at my back door with flowers and a ninja turtle poster. Later, Sandi Stewart told me that Andrew picked the flowers from the neighbor's backyard." Ashley Rummage; "In 6th grade being Santa Claus in a school play and having my own classmates get all excited when I walked out in the Santa suit." Andrew Lovell; "When Andy Gasaway would sit at the bottom of the tunnel slide and hold everyone in the slide." Anonymous Senior; "In 2nd grade when Mrs. Klem would read stories to us and all the girls would sit in a line and braid each other's hair." Jill Seckinger; "Running away to the monastery and playing in the fish pond at recess." Stephanie Schipp; "Doing neat tricks out of the swings." Andrew Ayer; "Moving!" Patrick Brundage; "Mr. Dilger's 6th grade class! It was his last year so we goofed off the entire year; those were some good times!" Kelly Gunn.

- A group of 8th graders on the annual D.C. trip are pictured into history.
- A group of girls at Lincoln Trail make the most of their time by reading in the gym.
- One graduation down one to go. Congratulations, Brent Nixon and Andrew Lovell along with the class of 2002. We're finally here!
- If you think this picture looks eventful, imagine what the rest of the field trip was like. Only David Turnham's 6th grade class will know.
- Talk about a free haircut! The day David Neuman let us know he had real guts!
- While hanging out before class a quick picture is taken of, then freshmen, Brandon Flippins and Candy Reniniger.

this award goes to...

The last awards night for the seniors was held on May 23, 2002, at 7:00 in the auditorium. This wonderful night of awards and recognition was long anticipated. Everyone eagerly awaited to find out what award they would be presented. A variety of representatives from universities and businesses presented the deserving seniors of scholarships and awards. Nicole Tempel and Maya Thake shared the valedictorian honor while Jessica Siegel received the salutatorian honor. William Walton sang "A Mighty Fortress" and Amanda Walters sang "O Rest in the Lord" to entertain their fellow classmates one last time. Mr. Logsdon ended the ceremony by congratulating all the seniors for their hard work and accomplishments through the years.

Graduation

time to say good-bye

Saying good-bye is hard, but not necessarily for these seniors; they will soon be moving onto bigger and better things! On May 25, the class of 2002 gathered at the Lincoln Amphitheater for the last time. The amphitheater became packed with friends and family. Almost everyone had beaming smiles on their face, while some shed the tears of joy. Before the ceremony was on its way, seven senior band members, including Britni Bowman, Patrick Brundage, Jon Carney, Ashley Hassfurth, Andrew Lovell, Candace Rininger, and Maya Thake, conducted a song they had chosen. After the senior band members took their place in line, the ceremony was on its way. As the graduates marched down the steps in their blue caps and gowns, the band played "Fanfare and Processional." After the graduates took their place on stage, Jessica Siegel sang the National Anthem. The class president, Brooke Pund, welcomed everyone to the ceremony. Both the band and the choir performed during the ceremony. The song "Your Heart Will Lead You Home," featured the senior choir members. Nicole Tempel and Maya Thake delivered their valedictorian speeches. While Maya Thake was giving her speech, a little butterfly decided to join in on the celebration by flying around her. The Salutatorian speech was delivered by Jessica Siegel. The top ten students of the class were then recognized right before the long awaited presentation of diplomas. After the presentation of diplomas the graduates turned their tassels over in joy. All of the graduates were beaming with smiles. The graduates then marched out of the amphitheater to "Fanfare and Recessional."

Get into the spirit as Hawaii hits the Jungle

A Hawaiian mood filled the stadium as students and adults crowded into the football homecoming game on September 28. Upon entering the gate, fans were greeted by the sight of palm trees, leis, and tropical decorations everywhere. At halftime, twenty four students selected by their peers were introduced on the field. Brandon Flippins and Maya Thake were all smiles as their names were announced as king and queen. Prior to the actual ceremony, several events took place to promote school spirit. On September 21, the student council sponsored a homecoming carnival. With blow up boxing, bungee run, laser tag, hay bail rolling, and the seat-belt challenge, no one was left without something to do. Students lined up to dunk teachers and administrators in the dunking booth. New to the carnival was the car bashing. Students were able to take out their aggressions on a "Raider car" by beating it with a sledgehammer. It was definitely a crowd pleaser! Students also participated in dress up days all week including PJ day, Red/White/Blue & hat day, Tacky day, and of course, Hawaiian day. The juniors won Powder Puff football in a close match against the seniors. A pep session was held, and the seniors were given the Spirit Award for their unique design and use of the "Flubbertybubble." Memories of Homecoming and all of the activities are sure to remain with everyone.

It's beginning to look like an Enchanted evening...

As the students entered the cafeteria on December 21, 2002, little did they know that they were in for "one enchanted evening." The annual Holiday Ball was kicked off when junior student council member Kara Lambeck announced the 2001-2002 prince and princess. Prince Clint Roos was crowned by senior student council member Brittany Detzer. Princess Brittany McLaughlin was also crowned by Brittany Detzer. The Holiday Ball was sponsored by the student council and their advisor Mrs. Angie Hochgesang. The student council provided soft-drinks, cookies, and candy to all who attended. The cafeteria was decorated in the Winter wonderland theme. The Coke machines were decorated like wrapped Christmas gifts, and the ceiling was sparkling with stars. The students were also serenaded to the tunes of Heart Breaker D.J. A new addition to the Holiday Ball was the large video screen. It broadcasted the prince and princess crowning, the students dancing and also various music videos. The dance was a success! Everyone had a great time dancing the night away!

Five, Six, Seven o'clock, Eight o'clock Rock! As the time ticked by on January 18, 2002 the anticipation for the evening's events grew. Between the junior varsity and varsity games senior student council members Brooke Pund, Jessica Siegel, and Sara Van Winkle crowned Zach Goldsberry and Stephanie Schipp king and queen of basketball homecoming. The evening festivities were preceeded by a week on fun spirit days including Pajama Day, Traditional Heritage Hills Spirit Day, and '50s Day. On these days the students were asked to wear clothing that matched that day's theme. A pep session was held Thursday between second and third periods to introduce the senior homecoming candidates. During the pep session students from each grade were asked to karaoke to "The Twist" and "Love Shack." The homecoming candidates were selected by their peers and after the pep session the student body voted for the senior candidates of their choice for king and queen. The Patriot basketball team defeated the Southridge Raiders by a score of 62-58. After the game students rocked in the small gym until 11:30. Ladies and Gentelman, the King and Queen have left the building.

An unforgettable Prom in every way

For some students prom was on the brain long before the actual event. Students began shopping for the perfect dresses and tuxedos months before April 5, 2002. The early birds, like senior Maya Thake, bought dresses in November. However, some people, including senior Candy Rininger, found the perfect dress just days before the event. Everyone worries about having the same dress. Inevitably some girls always have identical dresses. Senior Allison Jochim and juniors Jessica Jochim and Amber Leffert came to the prom with beautiful matching dresses. As the gentlemen escorted their dates into the Ferdinand Community Center, they were immediately swept up in the music of the disc jockey, Heartbreakers, from Hagerstown. Before long, everyone was on the dance floor breaking out some moves of their own. Not only was the music great, but the decorations were fantastic! "The decorations, were simple, but also nicely coordinated with the colors, which were blue, purple, silver and gold," stated Mr. Hess, the prom coordinator. Prom would not be complete without the crowning of a king and queen. Shana McKinney and Andy Gasaway were the 2002 prom roalty. As the prom came to an end, everyone was still smiling, knowing that there was fun to have and prizes to win at the after prom. Janelle Koenig

When was the last time you had a pajama party

Remember back when you were a kid and you and your friends always had sleepovers? Well, it was a childhood memory recreated on the night of April 5th at afterprom. Prom-goers were young, restless and ready for a night of games, gambling, and prizes. Not to mention the selection of beverages and snacks provided to keep the party going all night long. Hula-hooping, digging for quarters, betting for horses, and grabbing for money were just some of the many activities available to the students. Witnesses saw and did some crazy things that night that will never be forgotten. Senior Britni Bowman testified: "I definitely will not do the sumo wrestling again. I was nearly clobbered by Richard (Haycox)!" A number of people agreed as well. But the prizes, who could forget the prizes we went home with as well? "I got a DVD player!" states senior Nick Gogel enthusiastically. Many others went away with cash, gift certificates, and things for them to take away to college. Afterprom is another eventful night seniors will carry with them when remembering high school. Juniors and seniors can all agree that afterprom moms and dads outdid themselves once again. This night was one full of surprises and one that will remain unforgettable. Elana Neighbors

Our Leader, Our Principal

Mr. Logsdon

Dear Students,

I would like to personally congratulate our yearbook staff for doing a great job of creating this edition of the school yearbook. Each of them had to work in an extremely mature manner due to their advisor, Mrs. Harrison, being out of school with an extended maternity leave. This group of students supported their student editor, Jessica Siegel, and completed a first class book with a minimum of outside assistance. Congratulations!!!

The tragic events of September 11, 2001 caused each of us to assess our priorities in life. The very next day and every school day since then our students began the school day by saying the Pledge of Allegiance. It appears that all of us realize the importance of a safe country, a strong family and a caring school.

Our school enjoyed many successes in academic and athletic competition. Our academic teams did very well in the regional and state competitions. The Destination Imagination team, under the direction of new advisors, was very competitive. Our fall and winter sports teams were very successful. Many of our athletes were selected for all conference and all state teams. It is a privilege to work with so many students and teachers who enjoy participating in our extracurricular programs.

Students in our fine arts programs provided a great deal of entertainment for our school and community. The drama department presented an outstanding production with the fall play and we are eagerly awaiting the spring musical, "42nd Street." Our vocal music program is vastly improved and we all enjoyed their concerts in the winter and spring. Many of these young musicians were successful in the regional and state solo and ensemble contests.

It takes a whole community to educate our youth. Thanks to all of the businesses and individuals who supported our student programs this year. Without your assistance, our students would not have the opportunity to receive a very good education.

I congratulate our yearbook staff for doing a great job capturing the spirit of our school and community. Your leadership and dedication is greatly appreciated.

REMEMBER THIS

Ashley Oeding
'02

"I will remember the book talks we always had in Mrs. Michel's class. They were both fun and educational, and I thought they were a good teaching technique."

Amber Pinkston
'03

"Mr. Hein always enjoyed what he was teaching us. He was also extremely enthusiastic while being very informative."

Drew Lowery

"What I will remember most about Mr. Tower is how he explained stuff thoroughly. He also had a great sense of humor that he used to teach us with."

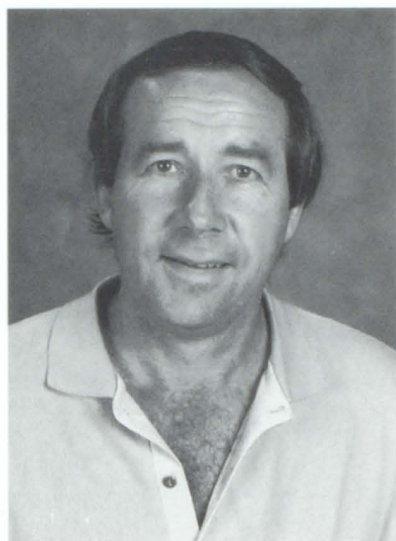

Mrs. Michel will be leaving the Heritage Hills Junior High School after 31 years of teaching. Mrs. Michel has been the type of teacher who looks for the best in every student and emphasizes the importance of having a great attitude throughout life. Mrs. Michel once said, "Humor keeps life in perspective." What Mrs. Michel will miss most are the "crystal moments" in a student's life when he or she makes a new discovery and is excited about it. Mrs. Michel is very involved with church. After retiring, she plans to do even more to help out. On the top of Mrs. Michel's priority list is spending more quality time with her family. She has a new grandson, Tanner, and also wants to catch up on old times with her mother, children, and husband, who is currently a teacher in the science department.

Scharee Cain

Mr. Dale Hein has changed many of the lives he has encountered in the past 34 years. Twenty-three of these years were spent at Heritage Hills. As a teacher and a coach of varsity basketball, students never left Mr. Hein without knowing something they previously had not. "I will miss the interaction with young people on an everyday basis the most," said Mr. Hein. Mr. Hein served as a coach for a total of 22 years, 11 of which were at Heritage Hills. During his coaching days, Mr. Hein led the Patriot basketball players to six sectional titles. After retiring, Mr. Hein plans to spend his time being busy with many recreational activities. Along with many others, golf is one of his favorite sports. He also plans to catch up with his family and work outside.

Scharee Cain

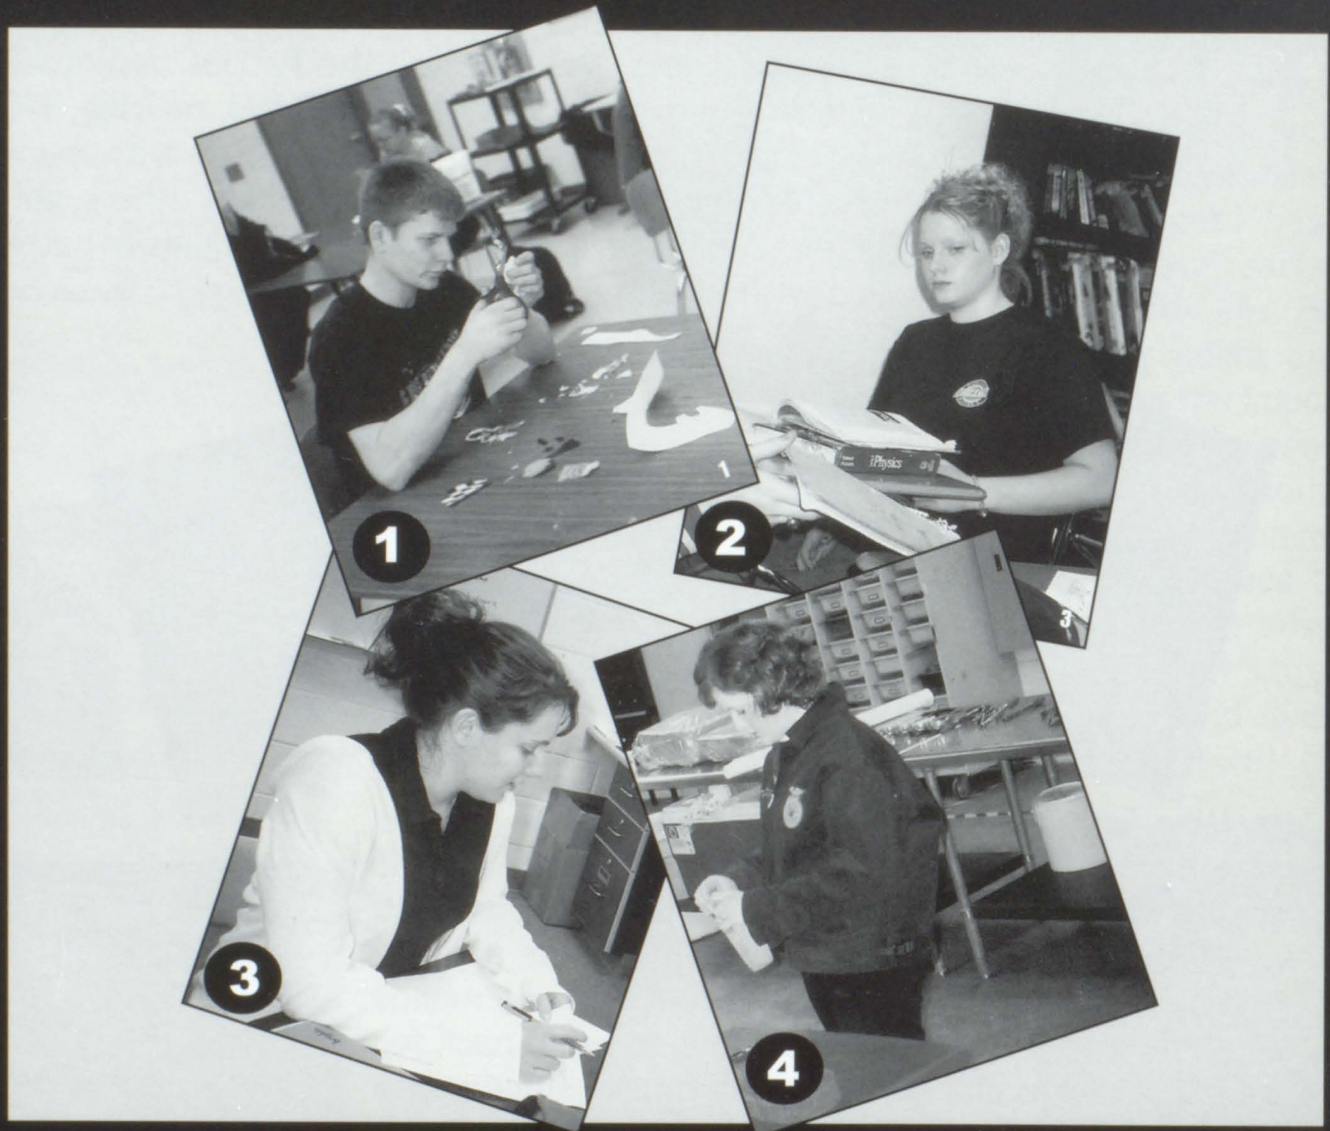

Mr. Mike Tower has been teaching since 1969. In this time he has taught the students as well as himself many lessons. New experiences happen everyday and Mr. Tower has found ways to grow from them all. He enjoys visiting workshops and conventions as a means of learning new teaching techniques to bring back for the kids. He has changed with the times, which is one thing that has made Mr. Tower a vital asset to the North Spencer School Corporation. As Mr. Tower once said, "Learning is a journey, not a destination." After retiring, Mr. Tower has a lot planned. He is going to rediscover his creative, artistic side by carving and painting. He will also be busy around the farm with his mules and repairs.

ACADEMICS

2 While in Physics class with Mr. Goldman, junior Valerie Niehaus takes a brief moment to read over some English material for her next class.

3 Senior Allison Jochim writes a catchy song for the yearbook staff to sing on the PA to promote yearbook sales.

4 Senior Candy Rininger is working extremely hard to have everything ready for the FFA Open House in February. She cut yellow streamers to decorate the tables.

In room 104 you will find Herr Nixon, leader of the German pack. Herr Nixon is the advisor of the German Club. To plan activities the German Club had meetings during ECA that were conducted by President Clint Roos, Vice President Tara Price, and Secretary Candy Riner. The German Club carried on the tradition of Christmas caroling in the winter followed by a pizza party at Jenk's. In the spring the German Club went to Grimm's Fairy Tales in Henderson, KY. to see German traditions up close. "Going to Grimm's Fairytales was something new and a lot of fun," said sophomore Chris Johannes. The German Club gives those involved a chance to have German experiences they will never forget.

It's fiesta time

"The Spanish Club is important because it gives its members a chance to get together, have some fun, and learn more about other cultures," said senior Stephanie Toth. Each year the Spanish Club takes part in Foreign Language Week. There are several activities throughout the week designed to encourage eighth graders to take a foreign language. "It helps to unite students that have a similar interest in foreign language," said junior John Kosco. Spanish and German clubs face off in the tug-of-war competition at the end of the Foreign Language Olympics each year. The Spanish Club also had a lock-in where there were several activities student could participate in.

Tap your toes! Clap your hands! The choir and Heritage are bursting out in song. Not only did the choir and Heritage sing, but they also incorporated dancing into their performances. Thanks to the guidance, supervision, and talent of Ms. Stutzman, both groups had fantastic performances. The singers have taken a lot of pride in their singing and have taken their talents to a new level. Hours of practice and immense dedication are not new concepts to these singers. "If I added up all the time I am singing, I sing more than I sleep," stated senior Cassie Small. Wow! That is a lot of singing! Look out Carnegie Hall! Our choir and Heritage singers are heading your way!

Creative minds

Destination Imagination definitely had an exciting year, whether it was stealing ding-dong's from a factory and going to court, incorporating a song using, 'Devil Went Down to Georgia,' or making a structure out of wood and duct tape in a half hour to be tested for its weight. At the state competition in Noblesville, IN, the team was given four minutes to think of a skit, using a T.V. remote with no batteries, swimming goggles, an empty CD case, an empty 20 oz. Sprite bottle, a wrench, and a baster; they were given two minutes to perform. The team, supervised by Mrs. Buffington and Mrs. Greulich did extremely well, placing second in state. Practicing two times a week definitely paid off.

Born for business

They're young, they're professional, and they're talented. They are the cream of the crop and our future business leaders. This hard-working team, led by dedicated Mrs. Kern, impressed us all with their outstanding achievements. Winning the Sweepstakes Award in the district contest was an honor given to a school for having the most points. The team went to state and performed extremely well, sending five students to the National Competition in Chicago, Illinois. The female members of BPA held a Style Show on April 24 for girls in grades 9-12; they modeled clothing that is appropriate for working in a business environment. BPA members devoted many hours of their time to help make the HH chapter a success. Jenna Ubelhor

Glad to be SADD

Destructive decisions? No way! The Heritage Hills SADD chapter has kept students informed about the dangers of bad decision making through several fun activities and projects. SADD advisor, Mrs. Wilmes commented, "I think SADD is really getting off the ground. We had a good group of involved students, and we are gaining a presence in the school." Some of the fun events sponsored by SADD included SADD Awareness Week which ended with a weenie roast, Red Ribbon Week, the Great American Smoke-Out, the Tree of Life, Quick Click Buckle Challenge at the carnival, and a SADD lock-in. Each activity was successful in providing information to students in an exciting atmosphere.

natural helpers (nach-e-rel help-ers) n.- people that are easy to talk to and have good advice and listening skills.

Naturally helpful

Got a problem? More than likely there are friends to confide in. There is also a group of people, faculty and staff alike, who are quite helpful when needed. These people are Natural Helpers, and chances are that there is at least one in each group of friends. The goal of Natural Helpers, according to senior Brittany McLaughlin, is to be "caring, considerate, good listeners, and have the ability to not be judgemental." When a student needs somebody to listen, there is no better person to turn to than a Natural Helper. These people are excellent listeners to begin with, but have been trained further at retreats and keep their skills honed by attending morning or ECA meetings periodically throughout the year. Chris Donnelly

Strictly hh spirit

Who's got that spirit? The HHHS Pep Club has that spirit. The Pep Club's unbelievable spirit helped some of the teams get through some crunch time situations. Mr. Alcorn is the advisor of Pep Club and gives support to the students and their ideas to help keep the spirit high in school. "A core group of students have done a good job of being good role models to the younger students to have more school spirit," said Mr. Alcorn. Every year the seniors are given the decision of the shirt design.

This year's senior class will not be forgotten because of the turn out on the shirts. It was an idea with good intentions just not good results. As the Pep Club shirts say, "We Mean Business."

Stepping it up

To be a member of this elite group of students one must have outstanding attributes. The Patriot student council has worked hard to bring about many of our annual events such as homecoming dances and our canned food drive. The student council also exercises skills to work with others as a team to come up with the best possible solution. "Being a member of the student council has given me confidence as a leader and a role model" said senior Sara VanWinkle.

They have a student exchange; students went to Memorial High school and learned new ways to improve activities in school. Our student council has put in the sweat, blood, and tears to step it up and make high school more exciting.

Hard work pays

"We want kids to feel proud of doing good work and being good citizens," commented Ms. Davis, the renaissance advisor. The renaissance student and adult committees met once a month to come up with ideas for the academic pep rally scheduled at the end of each year and other ways to reward students for good deeds and academic success. The committee also received help from parents, who volunteered their time to help set up for the events that the committee planned. Some of the positive attributions included: giving out awards for perfect attendance, rewarding students with Patriot cards, and also rewarding students for their hard work in the classroom.

year. We had a lot of fun," stated Coach Isaacs. The team learned many new strategies and had tournaments against each other to help get ready for the bigger meets. Junior Amanda Stepro added "The best part of the game is beating a guy that says 'girls can't play chess.'" Finishing up the season, the chess team went to the national tournament in Louisville and did very well there, placing thirty-fourth. Way to go!

Jump start for success

Leaving school for half a day and getting paid for it sounds like a good deal, doesn't it? To senior Shana McKinney and many other seniors who joined the I.C.E. program it did. Shana, who worked at Deaconess St. Joseph Hospital, stated, "At first it was just a way to get out of school, but throughout the school year I've learned differently. This program has taught me more about life and my future than all my other classes put together." The students in the program held down a part time job, which they go to during the school day. Program leader Mrs. Hochgesang felt that it was a great way for students not only to learn about work ethic and their potential future, but gave them a chance to earn cash as well.

Whipping it out!

The Heritage Hills Color Guard started off great and ended with a bang! Receiving two Best Auxiliary trophies at USI and Princeton, the guard had one of its best years performing. On top of that everyone got along just like a family. "They keep calling me 'Mom'!" stated Laurie Reberger. The Winter Guard had an a-maise-ing year with their show entitled "Maise." The guard performed in six shows and placed in the top five at everyone. At the preliminary contest, they earned a spot in the state contest and received a fourth place finish overall. This was the first year for competing and much was accomplished. That is so a-maise-ing for only the first year!

Through hard work and dedication, the band placed first in every regular season competition. The band finished marching competition with an incredible 5-0 record.

"My most memorable moment was beating the reigning state champions, North Harrison, in marching competition," the band director Mr. Reberger stated. Spending endless hours together formed a strong bond among the members of the band. These hours were spent practicing, of course. "Fierce determination, an iron will, and a slight fear of what the band directors would do if I didn't come to practice," was the motivation for freshman Kyle Williams. The band made a trip to Florida during spring break. The highlight was marching for approximately 80,000 people in Disney World's Magic Kingdom. The band will continue to keep the beat wherever they go.

NHS ('en 'āch 'es)n.-
1. a group of students who possess strong signs of leadership, character, scholarship, and service 2. an above average student

In order to be a member of the National Honor Society, one must show strong signs of service, scholarship, leadership, and character. The possession of all four of these traits is hard to come by, but for those who are able to maintain them, they are almost guaranteed to succeed. "Getting out and helping my community is my favorite part of NHS," according to junior Megan Kline. The NHS gave back to its community in several ways. The lush green grass on the sides of the road were due in large part to the Adopt-A-Highway project. The Riley's Children's Hospital received a large donation because the members of the NHS placed donation buckets around the area stores and restaurants. Something the NHS did to help many kids out is the tutoring program. This allowed any student who needed extra help to work one-on-one with a member of the NHS. The NHS emphasized that one must excel in multiple areas now if he or she wanted to succeed later.

FFA ('ef-'ef-'a)n. students involved with helping make this world a better place and develpoing leadership skills all at one time.

Something fierce

From selling fruit to building things to just having fun, the FFA knows how to stay busy. They did a great job selling 31,000 dollars worth of fruit, peanuts, and jerkey. The money that they raised was put towards field trips, food, drinks, and the meals that they provide at the school. After fruit sales, the FFA started on one of

Mr. Melsheimer's favorite activities, Habitat for Humanity. "I really enjoy Habitat House because the students get job training skills, learn to cooperate with each other, and they just feel good about helping others get things accomplished. And so do I!" stated Mr. Melsheimer. The FFA also held an open house dinner in February during FFA Week. About 200 parents, teachers, and friends attended and ate a delicious meal at the open house. The FFA also sponsored a family for the Make a Wish Fund; members went out to buy toys and clothes for the family's Christmas presents. FFA, not only a strong organization but a group of friends helping out the community.

Movin' to Beverly

...Hills that is. "Fine as frog's hair" are the best words to describe the fall plays. The night started out with a big bang featuring the production by the sophomores and freshmen of "Bang, Bang, You're Dead!" Learning about gun control was the key aspect of this play. The cast and crew did a great job of getting their point across, even though some of the thespians had the jitters. Sophomore Allison Hunter said on opening night, "I couldn't help thinking, what if I forget my lines, or what if I trip and fall flat on my face?" Following "Bang, Bang, You're Dead," the ol' gang of juniors and seniors were back in a hilarious rendition of "The Beverly Hillbillies." The cast had the audience in stitches the whole time. Tara Price humorously stated how well she fit her part, "I love playing the part of ditzy blondes, not that I am ditzy or anything." Mrs. Fortune and Ms. Davis also put in a lot of time and effort to make the plays the best that they could be. Great job to the cast and crew of both plays!

(myu-zi-kel)n. Theatrical production consisting of musical numbers and dialogue based on a unifying plot

New York in style

"Come and meet those dancing feet on the avenue I'm taking you to...42nd Street." On April 11, 12, 13, and 14, Broadway came to Heritage Hills. The drama department presented four outstanding performances of the musical "42nd Street." "This cast does not need much direction. They have a very high comfort level so being silly is not an issue," Ms. Davis said. The cast worked hard to put this musical together. Auditions were held in December. By Christmas Break scripts had been issued and parts had been assigned. "42nd Street" featured Jessical Siegel as Dorothy Brock, Tara Price as Peggy Sawyer, and Andrew Lovell as Julian Marsh. Practices were held each weekday evening from six to eight. On Wednesday they had singing practices and Saturdays were dedicated to the many numbers involving tap dancing. The musical was a huge success. "They will be a tough act to follow, but I look forward to many years of great kids," said Mrs. Fortune.

yearbook (yīər-buk)n. -school publication that is compiled and serves as a record of the year's activities.

Lasting moments

Under normal circumstances putting together a yearbook is a tough task. The 2002 yearbook staff, however, operated under circumstances that were far from normal. In October, Mrs. Harrison, the yearbook advisor, had to take a leave of absence due to medical reasons, and the yearbook staff was forced to continue work for nearly five months without an advisor. Mrs. Harrison said, "I hadn't been able to teach all that they needed to know to run a yearbook, so they basically had to teach themselves with the help of Jessica Siegel, Mrs. Heneisen, and Mark Hisle, the Herff Jones rep. Overall, the students did an outstanding job!" Jessica Siegel and Nathan Sitzman served as editors-in-chief, and Chris Donnelly, Scharee Cain, and Tara Price served as section editors. A lot of work went into the yearbook, beginning with a staff retreat at the end of last school year, then a July yearbook camp. The yearbook staff worked hard to attend every event and capture memories throughout the school year!

Gather together

Student assemblies were not just an excuse to get students out of class at Heritage Hills. A lot of thought was put into each assembly so that everyone would benefit while taking a break from class. Students gathered together for pep sessions to recognize students involved in the sports and events that were coming up. Most students looked forward to the 20 minutes out of class to celebrate accomplishments. "My favorite pep session moment was when I was called down to the gym floor for a class competition and was totally embarrassed," said junior Kelly Rice. Patriot events are not the only thing celebrated; academics is number one on the Patriot list. In May the student body celebrated academic accomplishments with an academic pep rally that was sponsored by the Renaissance Committee. "The academic rally was fun and a great way to celebrate academic excellence," said senior Kelly Gunn. The Patriot family worked very hard for their successes. The celebrations in honor of their hard work were enjoyed and well deserved.

ECA: 30 MINUTES OF FREEDOM

by Jessica Siegel and Chris Donnelly

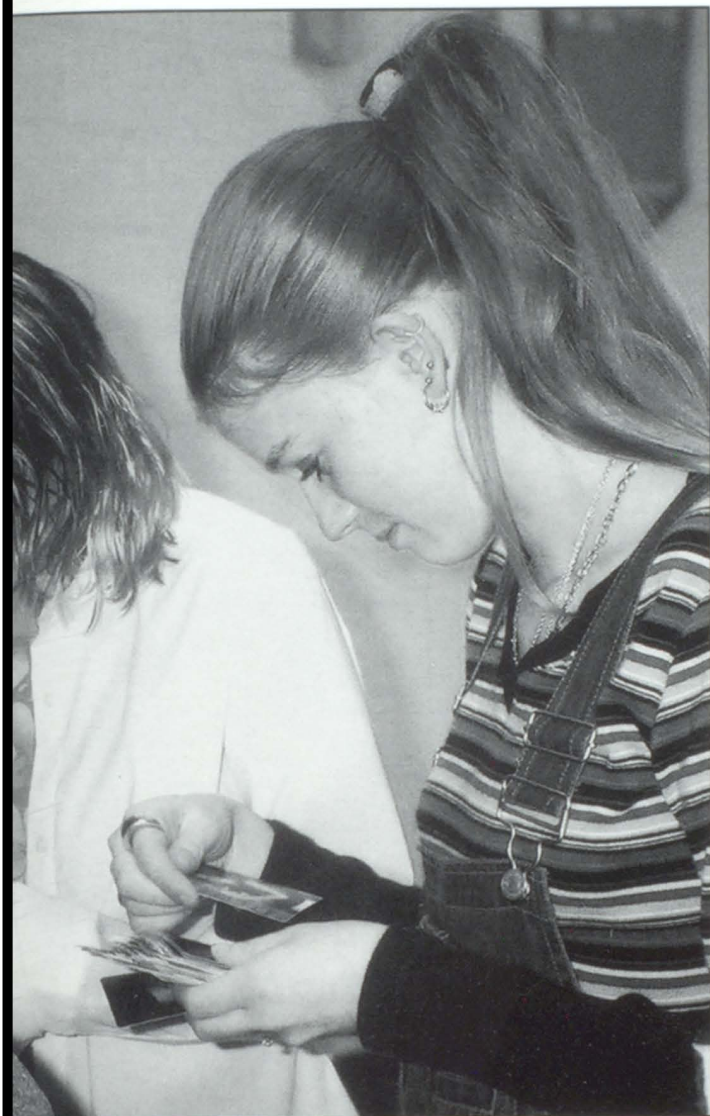

"We will be on ECA schedule this Wednesday." It is amazing how much joy those eight little words brought to a day. Every other Wednesday at nine thirty-nine in the morning, students could be seen hustling from meeting to meeting, trying to fit as much as possible into their thirty minutes of freedom. ECA stands for extra-curricular activities. It was a time designated for clubs within the school to meet and plan activities. A majority of students were involved in at least one of these clubs, and ECA time was used wisely by everyone. Each club in the school met at least once during ECA. Clubs spent their time getting together, discussing important issues, also completing projects. The most recent addition to the already jam-packed ECA schedule was the hackey-sack club. Because of the growing interest in hackey-sack, Mrs. Fortune and a core group of students took it upon themselves to start a club dedicated to the art of hacking. Sports and academic teams also met to get more organized. Everyone was able to become more involved in a variety of activities because of ECA. Students who normally wouldn't have time or students who would not take the initiative were able to participate in different clubs.

Above:
Seniors Maya Thake, Patrick Brundage, and Andrew Lovell lead an NHS meeting.

WHAT ARE THEY IN?

Aaron Estrabrook '03 German Club

My favorite club was German Club because it made me feel very cultured and it brought out the German man in me.

Ashley Sternberg '03 Pep Club

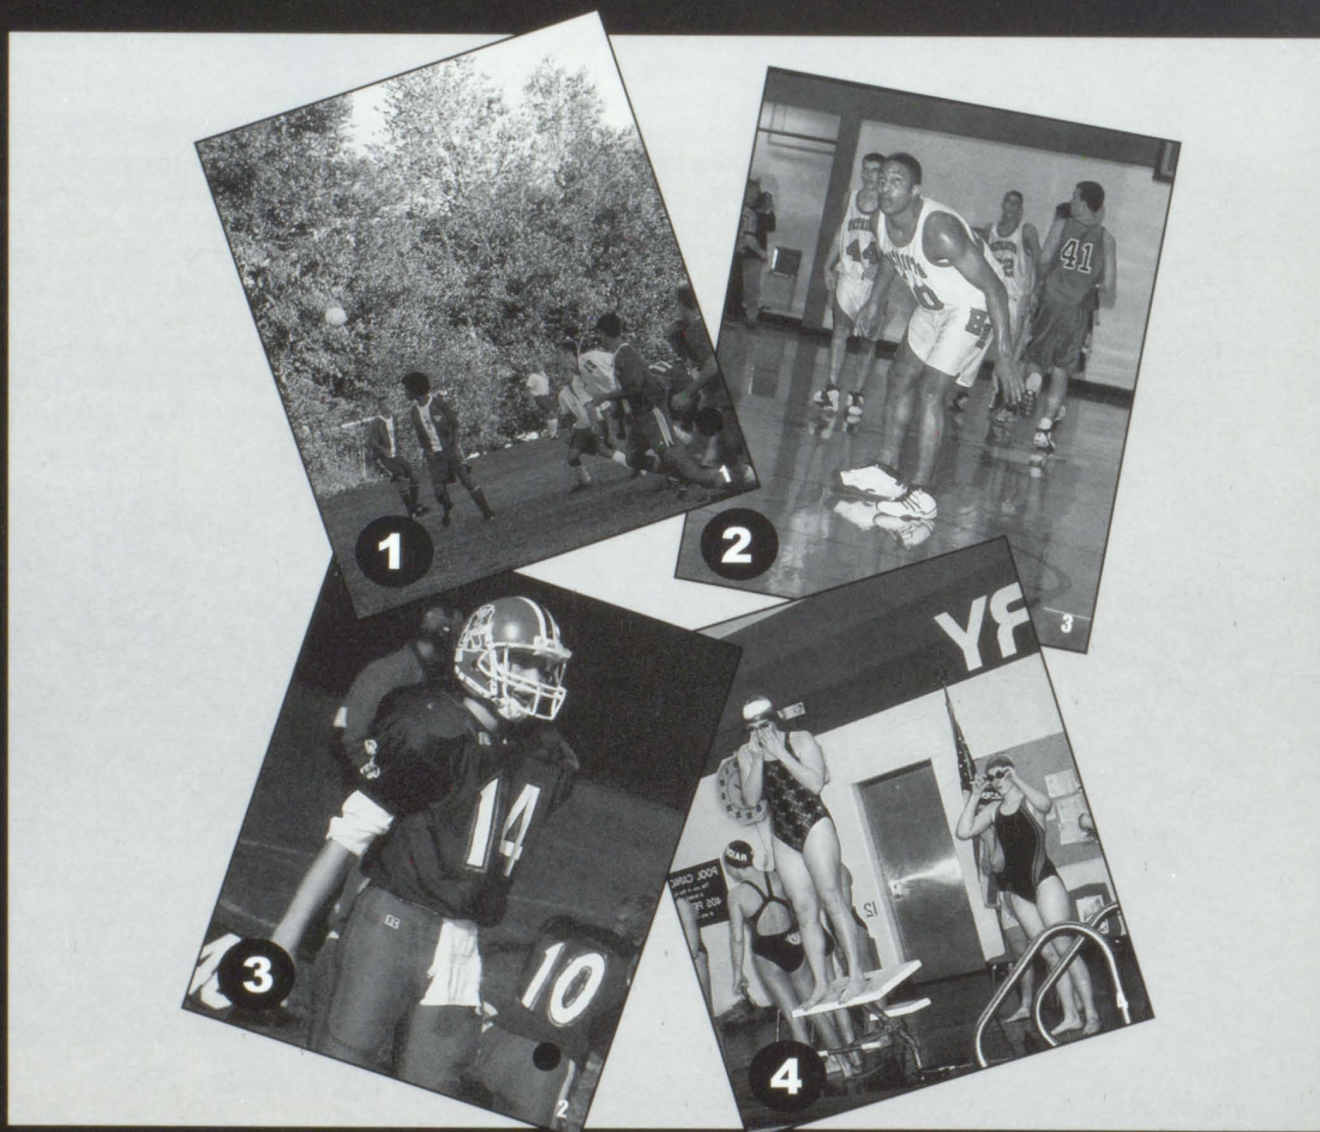

My favorite club was the Pep Club because we got to dress up for the spirit days and go to all of the games and cheer.

Jerod Schaefer '02 Natural Helpers

Natural Helpers was my favorite club because it was fun, informative, and gives you the skills to help other people.

DANCE TEAM

Danger Zone

highway to the jungle

Some people think that Highway 162 should change its name to Highway to the Danger Zone. Why? Because off to the side of this particular highway is a place so dangerous to opponents that they rarely find success there. This particular place is called "The Jungle." This team was no exception for opponents that came to play in the jungle, as the Patriot football team turned in yet another fantastic season ending up 13-1. The team had no trouble handling the pressure and hype from last season. Not only did they have an undefeated regular season and win the P.A.C. championship for the 5th consecutive year, they were also crowned sectional and regional champions. The two-a-day practices, weight training, and time spent watching films all paid off for the team as they outscored their opponents in the regular season 368-59. Now anyone can see that when opponents turn off highway 162 to play in the jungle they are entering a Danger Zone.

Bump! Set! Spike! The Lady Patriot volleyball team started their season off with a bang by winning their first match against North Posey in two games. The Lady Patriots took the season by storm with their amazing teamwork and awesome attitudes. Their teamwork showed in the Memorial Tourney when they took first place. The JV team learned about leadership and teamwork from the Varsity and captured first place at the Boonville Tourney. The "boot scootin" seniors Brooke Pund and Nicole Tempel showed their team how important it is to treat each other like family when out on the court. They celebrated senior night with the theme of cowgirls and they both received cowgirl hats with a special message from everyone on the team. For all of their hard work Nicole won Academic All State and Brooke won an Honorable Mention. The Lady Patriot volleyball team ended their season in the sectionals in a match against Boonville. The Lady Pats had a winning season with a record of 19-9.

The soccer team was expected to be the "under dawgs" after graduating seven seniors. However, the soccer dawgs still brought home eight victories. Their record was 8-9. "To me this was a rebuilding year. We had a lot of young guys starting, and a lot of new guys come out," said senior David Neuman. The team started six sophomores, one junior, and only three seniors. To motivate the team before a hard match the parents supplied the players with a healthy dose of brain food to help them focus on the game. No one can play soccer on an empty stomach. Soccer is a full contact sport. The players must be very skilled on their feet, and have a lot of endurance. This takes hours of practice. The soccer dawgs spent most of their practices running. The team even spent most of their summer vacation practicing. Even though the team finished with a losing season, they are still winners at heart.

Winning It All

in the long run

With a healthy season, the girls' cross country team came out on top with a 44-1 winning season. The girls' team was led by senior captain Lauren Champion. Coach Mike Nixon added, "This year's senior leadership was one of the strongest it has been in a long time." This year's team also got along very well which was one of the key factors to their winning season. Sophomore Laura Collins added, "This year our team got really close. We are like sisters. We became really good friends in and out of practice." Another factor that led to their success was the "spirit socks." The spirit socks were brightly colored and showed each of the girls' personalities. Senior Beth Krampe added, "Before PAC we all wore our 'spirit socks.' We even got Coach Denning to wear them." Coach Nixon and Coach Denning showed their spirit before semi-state when they both spiked their hair and wore make-up. The coaches' crazy tactics to get the team pumped up must have worked. The team's success was unbelievable!

Run 'Em Over

stomping the competition

No one can say that the season was boring. Between practices, meals, and riding to meets on short buses, the boys team created many memories. Whether they were good, or bad, the guys went away from the season taking a part of each memory with them. Much will be remembered for years to come. The boys won many races. Some of these wins include: the Heritage Hills Invitational, the conference championship, and they also advanced to semi-state. Junior Nick Waninger had a great season. He went undefeated during the regular season, won the sectional and regional, and qualified for the state meet. He represented our school well, placing thirty-third over all. The team finished out their season with an astonishing record of 55-5. The fact that no one got hurt was agreed upon by Coach Nixon and Coach Denning as one of the best memories. The coaches are also very pleased with the performances of the boys' team. Way to go guys!

Serve, return, forehand, backhand and volley. Easy words to say, but it takes a lifetime to perfect the art of tennis. Just ask the boys' tennis team. They spent hours practicing to enhance their skills. "Several players improved since last year," stated Coach Steinhart; "This team really seemed to motivate themselves. They made it a priority to develop these skills." Even though only one senior, Brad Philipps, went out for the team, he demonstrated excellent senior leadership, motivating the team to a record of 5-7. Impressively, over half of their victories were on the road. The long bus rides together helped them create a strong bond. Their friendships and their competitive spirits grew as the season progressed. Over the course of the season, the team worked on perfecting their skills so they are well on their way to success.

Lots of Heart

giving it their all

What is the difference between last year's Lady Pats team and this team, besides the fact that the girls more than tripled last season's winnings? These girls have heart. Even though they finished the season 7-13, the team still played with intensity until the end of each game. What else would be expected, though? The Lady Pats had four seniors returning to the lineup. Two out of the four seniors, Shannon Donnelly and Ashley Oeding, started while Danielle Held and Allison Jochim were among the first players off the bench. In practices, the team worked on their shooting and it showed. Sophomore Molly Rahman was the leading scorer, making forty-six percent of her two and three point shots. Jessica Jochim, on the other hand, scored an impressive seventy-four percent of her free throw shots. Basketball, when given the chance, is a fun and challenging sport. Way to give the game your all, ladies!

Hot dogs, peanuts and Crackerjacks weren't needed to draw fans to the Patriot basketball games. With a new coach, a new season, and a new team, the boys were ready to take on any team that stood in their way. The excellent work ethic they developed and steady improvement allowed them to become a championship team. This group was very high-spirited; they played hard every night. Coach Marty Echelbarger stated, "We had excellent senior leadership. This steady influence and the positive environment it created allowed many of our younger players to really improve and make very positive contributions as the season progressed." The excellent attendance of the group allowed them to accomplish an amazing season of (14-9), to win a PAC championship (6-1), and to gain the respect of fans and opposing coaches as a team that always worked to their potential and one that would be hard to beat every night they took the floor.

keeping the spirit

Heritage Hills is known for having outstanding sports teams. People often overlook the girls on the sideline who carry the teams to victory. The cheerleading squad motivates not only the guys on the field and court, but also the fans. To prepare for a season of hard work, the squad first headed to the University of Southern Indiana in July for cheer camp. Here they achieved the "Spirit of Cheerleading" award, the highest award possible. At the end of July, little girls from surrounding elementary schools let out their wild side at the annual cheer clinic with the theme of "Welcome to the Jungle." Brooke Pund, Alicia LaGrange, Alicia Tempel, and Kate Palmer proved that cheerleaders are true athletes when they scored high enough with the stunt routine at regionals to advance to state. All the cheerleaders worked hard at practice and also at gymnastics each week in order to perfect their flips, jumps, and routines.

Swim Teams

create big waves

"Pull, pull, pull!!!" You can hear the chant of encouragement echo off the walls of the pool room in a deafening roar. Accompanied by the frantic cheering of the crowd and the constant splash of swimmers arms and legs on the cold, favorless water. Coach Collins led her teams to excellent seasons as the boys finished 7-4 and the girls an incredible 8-2. On the seasons Coach Collins commented, "I can't brag enough on this years performances. The kids started conditioning a month before the season and made up practices that they missed. Their records show just how hard they've worked." The hard work especially showed through in the post-season meets. Both boys' and girls' teams finished second, with most swimmers improving times. Coach Collins had the honor of getting to hand out two P.A.C. championship medals, one to junior Heath Keefer for the fifty-meter freestyle, and the other to senior Kris Kamp for his efforts in the hundred-breaststroke.

Heritage Who

determining champions

Heritage Who??!!! Just because a certain team referred to our wrestling team by this name, does not mean that anyone else can, nor does it mean that we can ever be referred to by that name again. Winning the conference championship for the first time in the history of Heritage Hills proved that. What the team can be referred to as is a train. Just as each individual car makes up an entire train, each team member contributes to the team. Without the participation of each team member, the team as a whole, would not have existed. "Wrestling is just as much as a team sport as it is an individual sport," explained Coach Alcorn. "With all the guys acting as a car, the train is unstoppable. It will continue to build up speed and it will dominate." With this being Coach Alcorn's last year, winning the conference championship was like icing on the cake. He was a great coach and will be missed. The outlook of the Patriot team is good, and all there is to say is now that the train rolling, it will be, as they say, unstoppable.

Stepping Up to the plate

A beach in southern Indiana? The idea may seem strange, but to the Heritage Hills softball team, that beach was their home field. Fastpitch softball has traditionally been a strong program at Heritage Hills, and this season was no exception. The team of twenty-one talented girls was able to put together a season record of 14-10 and beat previously undefeated Forest Park. This was due, in large part, to an excellent group of seven seniors. Coach Joe Asbury commented, "This class of seniors has not only led our team to great things this season, but they have been the cornerstone of many wins over the past three seasons." The group began practice in March, where they improved their skills and practiced working as a team. These practices paid off for the Patriots as they were able to accomplish many goals. For example, the team beat Southridge both times this season, once by the run rule, which had never been done before. This Lady Patriot squad showed that hard work really does pay off.

battling rivals and weather

It's going. It's going. It's gone! The Patriot baseball team had an incredible season, finishing with a record of 15-6. One of the highlights of the season was beating Evansville Memorial, the reigning state champions, in a well played game. The team beat the Memorial Tigers in a 3-2 battle for victory. This team showed they had great determination to win at all costs. During the Tecumseh game the baseball team came from behind to beat the Braves in the eighth inning. Junior Steve Smith hit a home run to win the game. The team was led by four fantastic seniors. These seniors showed the underclassmen how to play the game with style. The wonderful April showers made the season a treacherous one. Working around the weather was extremely difficult. "Mother nature does not want us to play baseball," stated senior Patrick Brundage. Several games were rained out and had to be rescheduled. "The swamp" as the baseball team called their wet and often muddy field created some very muddy practices.

Serve it up

queens of the court

The girls tennis team proved their athletic skills again! The girls began their season with a great start. Their preparation started in January with conditioning, where they had to run a mile in eight minutes to make the cut to be a proud member of the tennis team. The decision of what position they played on the team was decided through a challenge match. After conditioning and challenge matches their season began in March after three months of long strenuous preparations. From powerful serves to perfect swings every detail added to the outcome of each match. Great triumphs were made throughout the year, defeating Southridge and Forest Park. The girls led the season undefeated in PAC matches. After winning 3 of the 5 divisions the tennis team were co-champions in the PAC tourney. The girls' season ended with a winning record of 14-4. The Heritage Hill's girls tennis players are not only outstanding athletes but queens of the court.

Just Tap It In... hitting the links

"The course is flooded, how can we practice today?" This season brought this question to the lips of the Heritage Hills golf team members on more than one occasion. Even with hole three often under water, the team got practice done to the best of their ability. Rain or shine, the team put in their hours on the course, greens and the bunkers in order to become as good a team as they could. The team practiced every day after school. On three days they played, usually nine, and on the other two days the team would putt and hit range balls. Matches consisted of nine holes in regular season and eighteen during tournament time and the post-season. The team got to play for free at Christmas Lake Golf Course so they could take it upon themselves to practice on their own time. Official practice started for the team in March, and the season continued through the end of the school year. The team, which finished with a record of 14-6, was made up of 12 members and led by Coach Jon Winkler.

Runner, Set!

sprinting to victory

"Fire up ladies!" "You can catch her!" "Faster, faster!" These cheers and many more are what you heard if you made it to any of the women's track team meets. The women's team this year, might have been fewer in numbers, as compared to other years, but what they lacked in numbers they made up for in spirit. All over the field, all that was heard was positive language, which is understandable considering that the word "can't" is not part of the vocabulary where the track team is concerned. It's just as well, though, because the elimination of this certain word puts hope and the promise of victory in these young athletes' hearts. The women had success this year placing in many of the big meets, including placing third in PAC's. There were many top finishes individually also. Katie Kern was PAC champion in shot put. The abundance of team spirit and the need to strive for perfection set these ladies above all others. Keep sprinting to victory ladies!

boys run to success

...Set, Boom! The runners begin as the gun sounds, and as they run they ask themselves, "What does it take to be number one?" Their hard practices and many hours spent in the weight room paid off as they placed an impressive third at P.A.C's, and placed sixth at Sectionals. Two juniors, Zack Mehling and Nick Waninger, did well enough to advance to state. "The team really came together and started to perform well towards the end of the season, by the time P.A.C's and sectionals came around we started to put things together, and I am proud of the team for that," commented Coach Compton. The team had to deal with the many injuries that come with running. "When we would see one runner have to sit out due to injury, we would see another step up and take his place, that says a lot about this team," commented Coach Nixon. The team was led by seniors Lyonel Cooper and Erik Brown, whose presence will be missed next season.

attitude, rhythm, funk

Hit it 4, 3, 2, 1. These were the beats the Patriot drill team practiced to every-day after school. They put in long hard hours trying to perfect their dance moves for the large crowd on weekend nights. They danced to many songs but "It's All For You" by Janet Jackson was definitely a drill team favorite. Junior Tiffany Kern stated, "The Janet Jackson dance was a lot of fun. We actually did moves from her performances and were allowed to make our outfits for the dance." Junior Monica

Miller stated, "I felt that the outfit really reflected my originality, plus I really liked having the torn up shirts and ripped jeans." Not only did the girls have fun wearing crazy outfits and dancing in front of large audiences but they also liked the warm up before the practices. Junior Brooke Heim said the part she enjoys most about a drill team practice is dancing to the UDA warm-up. After all of their hard work and dedication the drill team was definitely a crowd pleaser.

Everyone Wins

The sun was shining bright and there were smiles on everyone's face on Saturday May 4, 2002, as the Special Olympics began. It kicked off with the parade of flags. All the participants got to walk around the track supporting their team's flag. After that, everyone went to the events. Some of the events were softball throw, tennis ball throw, standing long jump, and individual races around the track. While the participants were waiting for the event, they would stand on the sidelines and cheer.

"They love cheering on the other athletes. They make some lasting friendships," stated Mrs. Borden. Even if a competition did not go as well as the participants had hoped, they followed the Special Olympics motto. "Let me win, if I cannot win, let me be brave in the attempt." The participants came home with a ribbon for every event. The Heritage Hills team returned with many blue ribbons. Everyone had a great time and made memories that will last a lifetime.

What are your plans for the future?

I plan on going into some type of medical profession, whether it be a cardio thoracic surgeon, or just a M.D. Leah MacDonald '04

I plan on majoring in criminology and work for the FBI. Sara Van Winkle '02

I plan to become a teacher and a professional drummer. Nick Davidson '05

I'll move to Mexico, live on the beach, and drink sodas all day long. Hobart Scales '02

I would like to be a physciatrist (if only I could spell it). Nicole Schwartz '05

I plan to attend college and be a teacher. Irma Lopez '03

What aren't my plans for the future? The future is mine. Janet Cloe '05

e n d u r i n g FREEDOM

Tuesday, September 11, 2001, will be remembered as a tragic day that changed the world. That morning, a plot, masterminded by terrorist Osama bin Laden and the al-Qaeda network, was put into action. Two hijacked commercial airliners were flown into New York City's World Trade Center Towers, ultimately causing their collapse. Immediately following the incident, another hijacked airliner crashed into one side of the Pentagon in Washington, D.C, and a fourth plane crashed in Pennsylvania. Thousands of lives were lost, citizens were terrified and the world was in shock.

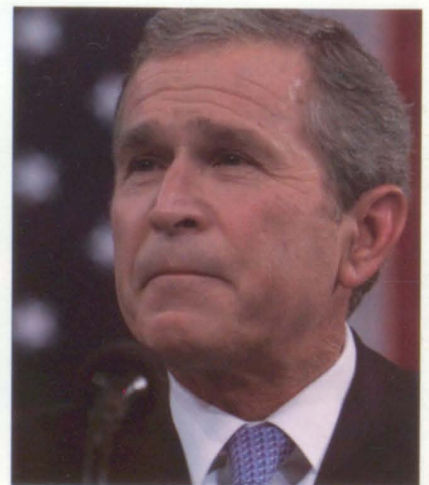

Following that mournful day the United States experienced anthrax scares, continued security threats and the reality of war. Despite the horror, fear and heartache, U.S. citizens united and their patriotic spirit soared. President Bush promised: "We will not tire, we will not falter, we will not fail." Through that statement and the remarkable sense of national pride exuded by U.S. citizens, it became evident that no threat, great or small, could deter the United States resolve for enduring freedom.

World leaders, such as Prime Minister of England Tony Blair, profess their sympathy and support for the United States.

Through his courageous leadership, NYC Mayor Rudy Giuliani becomes known as "Mayor of the World" and was knighted by Queen Elizabeth.

In response to the shocking tragedy, President George W. Bush addresses the nation offering strength, comfort and patriotism.

Ailing airlines urge citizens to defy terrorists' attempts to disrupt lives by reboarding airplanes.

Thousands of people world-wide donate blood and volunteer their services to aid U.S. recovery.

An overwhelming spirit of unity and national pride arises out of the smoldering ashes and human devastation from the September 11 attacks on the United States.

america's HEROES

- Michael Benfante and John Cerqueira, employees on the 81st floor of the World Trade Center, selflessly carried wheelchair-bound Tina Hanson down 68 flights of stairs to safety.
- New York City Fire Department Chaplain Father Mychal Judge, lost his life at Ground Zero while offering last rights to another victim.
- While attempting to rescue others, 343 firemen and 60 police officers died during the attack on the World Trade Center Towers.
- Army Chief Warrant Officer Craig Sincok, despite losing his wife at the Pentagon, offered assistance to those he could aid at the scene. On Sept. 12, Sincok began acting as a grief counselor for others who had lost family members at the site.
- Passengers Todd Beamer, Tom Burnett, Mark Bingham and Jeremy Glick joined to overcome hijackers aboard Flight 93 that crashed in Pennsylvania. Beamer's final statement "Let's roll," has become a symbolic phrase since then.

Canine rescue teams help firefighters search for survivors among the wreckage.

U.S. troops dedicate their lives to preserving freedom and keeping America safe.

Citizens and communities across the country proudly display patriotic decor.
